This book is two stories. The first one is called 'The Strange Beast'. The second story is called, 'The Terrible Beast'.

Each story tells the same story but from a different persons point of view.

What is does it mean to look from another point of view?

Why does one see 4 and the other see 3?
Who is right? Why?

Two people facing each other... a white candlestick in the middle?

What can you see? Can you see more than one thing?

Click again for the options, there is not right or wrong... just a different view or perspective.

Which character is right? The one who sees '6' or the one who sees '9'? Why...?

Just because you are right,
does not mean, I am wrong.
You just haven't seen life
from my side.

We are all unique and special. The girl makes the animal a box of the things that she thinks he will like and that will 'help' him.

Can you make something using a box?

There are two activities. Choose the one that you would like to do.

You can use objects, photographs or drawings. Make sure you talk to each other about your choices. You might learn new things and 'see' from a different perspective.

Fill a box of things that make you happy. Talk about why they make you happy.

or

Fill a box to show others who you are, from your perspective. Show what are you like and 'who you are'. Talk together about your choices.

Miss Sparkes' box

Design your own all about me box.....

When you change the way you look at things,
the things you look
at change.
